Case of Getting What's Paid For

By KEN LIDDELL
Poultry Men In Red Deer Areas Report Losses

Taking the stuff off the cuff before the laundry gets the shirt.

One of the most intriguing and mystifying items we've met on a restaurant menu for many a day was down at Lacombe where they listed: Chicken à la King, nothing else included, 55 cents.

Wonder what that meant?

You can buy nearly anything these days, from books to records, through clubs that send you one a month, but in Lacombe the people have a dollar a month and they pay a dollar a month and in return, eventually, will get a completed memorial recreation centre, work on which is lagging because of lagging funds.

But the dollar a month club idea is paying off. A R. Patrick reported it netted over $1,000 in two weeks.

Red Deer had to send out a blacksmith to fix a bridge. Apparently people fishing from the structure spent their time waiting for ribbies by twisting a bolt here and a bolt there. Blacksmith has fixed things so there will be no more bolt twisting. Nibbling may continue.

Westlock On The Frontier?

Visitors compliment Albertans on many things, but the people of Westlock were complimented on the hours kept by the stores.

Walter and Cecil Evans, of LaFayette, Indiana, who drove 2,450 miles in three days to do some shooting—said in their state smaller stores opened at 6 a.m. to catch the early trade but Canadians "sure have the right idea with your opening hours."

Westlock folk, happy to entertain the visitors, were more than somewhat amused, however, by their comment that "you people are of strong stuff, living way out here in the frontier."

Poultry Men In Red Deer Areas Report Losses

DRUMHELLER, Oct. 19.—Members of the Verdant Valley Farmers' Union of Alberta, through a resolution passed at a meeting in the Cassil Hill school, will urge the provincial government to replace the bounty on coyotes.

A copy of the resolution will be forwarded to the provincial F.U.A. convention in Calgary, Dec. 6 to 9.

LOSSES INCREASE

Farmers in the area told the meeting that losses by coyotes during the past year had increased. One speaker claimed that losses in his past year had amounted to over $100.

During the period of bounties, it was pointed out, many farmers from surrounding areas made periodical trips into the area to kill coyotes. These raids, due to the low price on hides and the lack of bounties, had been discontinued.

One official said that during the period bounties were payable it was estimated that 100 coyotes had been killed in the area.

The problem of bounties, he claimed, was many.

There was in the area of Verdant Valley field that the coyote packs will increase rapidly within the next several months unless some action is taken.

SCHOOL AREA MORE CENTRAL

SEDGWICK, Oct. 19.—During the teachers' convention at Camrose members of the Killam local school board, led by Dr. J. T. Wainwright, president, with D. T. Wainwright, vice-president.

Secretary of the board will be Miss M. D. Davies, of Sedgwick. Council members are I. C. Birdsell, Forestburg, and S. F. Mallett. Alliance Salary negotiation committee will consist of P. J. Milner, Harry Wainwright, Doug McGill, and J. T. Wainwright, with the president as ex-officio member.

I. C. Birdsell was nominated as geographical representative to the provincial executive of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Divisional superintendent, Dr. J. W. Chalmers, pointed out the continuing trend to school centralization in the Killam area, where four-fifths of the pupils and three-quarters of the teachers are now in graded schools.

Women Seek Smoking Ban During Shows

SEDGWICK, Oct. 19.—At meeting of the Sedgwick Women's institute a committee was chosen to visit the village council to urge smoking discontinued during the showing of movies.

It was decided to grant $25 to the public library for the purchase of books, and $200 to the memorial hall fund.

Miss Peggy Haynes reported on the Girl Guide troop which the U.C.F. is sponsoring, and invited all present to attend the induction ceremony for new members.

Fire Marshal Resigns

ANDREW, Oct. 19.—John Frutkin, fire marshal and fire inspector of the village has voluntarily resigned from both positions.

Injured while making a forced landing in Des Moines, Ia., this bandaged and battered duck got the very best of care at a pet hospital. After taking 14 stitches in the duck's breast, the doc waves a bit of cotton to attract the patient's attention and then shoots a batch of penicillin into him. The luckless duck will be up and around again in no time.

WINNING HABIT

Gordon Taylor pointed out that the Nacine ball club had acquired a habit of winning. He lauded the Nacine players for their sportsmanship and paid tribute to manager Ayling, coach Jim Steele and playing captain J. McKinnon.

C. Powell, president of the Red Deer Valley Baseball League, said that each season at the opening of play the critics had looked on Nacine as the "Cinderella team" and in the past two seasons the aggregation had topped the title.

He reminded his hosts that the celebration of victory was twofold for Ayling, Steele and team officials who had recently been feted at a banquet in Drumhellier for winning the Alberta junior title.

Powell wondered how far the Drumhellier Legion would have gone in the junior playoffs with out the Nacine boys.

COMMUNITY LOSS

Chief Harvey, secretary of the Dinosaur Baseball Club, said that the loss of the Aylings to the community would be felt in all efforts and especially junior sports and music.

Any Ayling thanked the donor of the trophy for generously providing a trophy of the one destroyed in a fire. He said life in the community provided the basis for pleasant memories.

Presenting the trophy to the Dinosaur 3d, Stephen said that it was to help in making a little more pleasant to the young people of the district.

McKinnon, team captain, accepting the trophy, thanked the donor.

Weather Is Tough On Farmers, Roads

HIGH PRAIRIE, Oct. 19.—After about four snow storms and oceans of mud, the weather man gave a forecast for this week and farmers have hopes that they will be able to finish threshing as soon as things dry out. Roads have been described as bad everywhere but especially from Slave Lake to High Prairie on the main highway they are said to be disastrous.

Major development was expansion of the Whitecourt hotel owned by Roy Bayne. Expansion was of 18 update rooms.

A hot water heating system was installed and exterior was stuccoed. Hotel was extended to street front and frontage on Main street includes garage and two new buildings. During the summer about five dwellings were erected.

Red Deer Valley Winners Honored

DRUMHELLER, Oct. 19.—Citizens of Nacine in a double ceremony in the community hall paid their respects to the Dinosaur Baseball Club for winning the Red Deer Valley League championship for a second time and said farewell to Roy Ayling, manager, who will soon assume management of a business in Bowmans.

A banquet, presentation of the trophy and farewell gifts for the Aylings and a dance completed the ceremony. Gordon F. Taylor, M.L.A., was master of ceremonies.

Ed. Stephens presented the trophy to team captain J. McKinnon.

Lumber Firms Open Camps

WHITECOURT, Oct. 19.—Summer work is drawing to a close at Western Construction and Whitecourt Lumber Company planer.

Operators of bush camps are out on location to erect buildings and overhaul machinery.

Freighting goods up the Athabasca river is difficult due to the low water, reports Harry Johnson who operates a bush camp 35 miles west of Whitecourt.

Handicapped In Need of Aid

RED DEER, Oct. 19.—Highlight of the teachers' convention at Red Deer was the talk by Dr. George E. Selkie, chancellor of the University of Montana.

Speaking to over 200 members at the banquet, Dr. Selkie said that more attention should be paid the handicapped child than the normal or brilliant types, who, being more self-sufficient, did not require the same amount of assistance or understanding.

Over 450 members from Lacombe, Ponoka, Stettler, Rocky Mountain House and Red Deer registered for this year's convention.

As early as the ninth century books were first engraved on stone, ink was spread on the stone and rough prints taken by hand.

Old Arguments In BNA Debate

Members Give Them New Twist In Wrangle Over Constitution

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Parliament plodded through its second successive day of constitutional controversy yesterday.

Old arguments, some with new twists, were the order as members attacked or defended the government's proposed method of amending the constitution on federal matters.

The Progressive Conservative and Social Credit positions remained the same. They are opposed to the government resolution asking the United Kingdom parliament to give Canada the power to amend the constitution on affairs wholly within federal jurisdiction.

The Liberals continued to defend the position as it stands. The CCF accepted the principle with reservations. Result was an amendment to the resolution, proposed by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre), asking assurance for Canadians that a session of parliament would be held at least once a year and that an election would be held every five years.

The Liberals continued to defend the position as it stands. The CCF accepted the principle with reservations. Result was an amendment to the resolution, proposed by Stanley Knowles (CCF—Winnipeg North Centre), asking assurance for Canadians that a session of parliament would be held at least once a year and that an election would be held every five years.

JOHN DIFENBAKER (PC—Lab. Centre) came up with a new suggestion. The criminal lawyer from Prince Albert, Sask., says that the whole question be discussed by a committee of the whole house.

As the resolution stands at present, it offers opportunity only for formal debate. If the government agreed to open the way for committee consideration, members could ask questions on all phases of the measure. There was, however, no indication that the government would agree.

Mr. Difenbaker said the way the government is going about amending the constitution (British North America Act) is one that will set a precedent for any future amendments. It was an extremely important and delicate matter, he said, and in detail before any action was taken.

At house opening, Prime Minister St. Laurent said the government will expedite its public work program in Newfoundland in the hope of overcoming some of the province's rising unemployment.

In reply to a question by M. J. Cullen, CCF leader, Finance Minister Abbott indicated the government plans no action against gold mines which held gold for several years in anticipation of recent devaluation of the dollar.

3 Arbitrators Ready To Hear Wage Demands

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—(CP)—D. G. L. Cumming, Calgary insurance executive, has been appointed chairman of an arbitration board which will hear a dispute between the Marshall-Wells Ltd. wholesale hardware firm and the Warehousemen's Union (AFL).

The union is seeking a minimum monthly wage of from $125 to $175. Average wage scale currently paid ranges from $115 to $125 a month.

H. H. Bruden, secretary of the Calgary Trades and Labor Council, is union arbitrator, and Hon. W. C. Ives, former chief justice of the trial division of the Supreme Court of Alberta, is company representative.

Founder Of City, A. Myers Dead

YUJUNGA, Calif., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Alva D. Myers, 77, called "the farmer of Goldfield, Nev.," died Monday in his modest bungalow.

Myers, who became a multi-millionaire in 22 months shortly after the turn of the century, laid out a plot of agricultural land in 1902 for a mining camp, naming it Goldfield. Four years later Goldfield, between Tonopah and Las Vegas, had a population of 20,000 and was Nevada's largest city.

Mercy Flight Is in Time

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Condition of 30-year-old Herbert Coleclough, critically ill with a kidney condition, was declared "satisfactory" last night following his admittance here after a 600-mile mercy flight.

The electrician, who is employed at B.C.'s Sullivan mine near Kimberley, was flown here where an artificial kidney is available. He was admitted at the Vancouver General Hospital at 10:30 p.m. M.T.

A Calgary-based Canadian Pacific Airlines plane picked him up at Cranbrook, B.C.

A 27-mile ambulance ride got Coleclough from Kimberley to Cranbrook where the Calgary plane was waiting.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—Esther Williams admits this may not be believed, but her two-month-old son is swimming already.

"It sounds fantastic, I know," says the swim star. "But Beagle actually swims in his bath. All I do is keep his chin above the water and he paddles right along on the surface. In fact, he has nearly kicked a hole in his bathstie."

The child's nurse confirms this feat of heredity. Does this mean Beagle will challenge other Hollywood tots, such as the James Mason's Portland, who paddled about the family pool at six months? "No," says Esther. "I don't believe in tossing babies into pools and letting them swim under water. I don't know what the water might do to their sinuses and other respiratory area."

AMERICAN TRAGEDY
Theodore Dreiser had to die before he was immortalized on the screen. Montgomery Clift and Elizabeth Taylor are making "An American Tragedy" (now called "A Place in the Sun") for George Stevens.

And Stevens' partner, William Wyler, will start "Sister Carrie" this winter.

Gene Alyson and Dick Powell were discussing the latest Hollywood scandals. "Hollywood is like a Presbyterian church compared to what it was 20 or 30 years ago," said Dick.

The Powells are doing "The Reformer and The Redhead," her first film in eight months, during which she mostly cared for her young daughter.

The only scheduled film is "Royal Wedding," with Fred Astaire next summer. She'd prefer to do none until she've done and devote full time to her child's formative months.

Businessmen Help Britain Sell Here

Canadian Group Says Nation Should Buy From Customers

British United Press Staff Correspondent
OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(UPI).—A group of leading Canadian businessmen today started helping British firms compete with them on their own ground.

Drug Caches Seen At Trial

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Four large drug caches, hidden by an alleged dominion-wide narcotics ring and uncovered by the RCMP here, figured yesterday in the trial of 10 men on charges of conspiring to distribute narcotics.

The trial is in its 10th day. A photograph of Nick Agostino, one of the accused, was introduced as evidence today by members of the RCMP narcotics squad, who alleged it was taken as he picked up one drug cache from the base of a telephone pole.

As in Wednesday's session, the 20 defence counsels, from eastern and western Canada, hammered in relays at the police evidence. Police continued testimony regarding conversation allegedly of some of the accused, recorded as police lay next door to them in a Vancouver hotel.

They said at one point they flagged a light car, causing station on the radio next door, to force the suspected "peddlers" to tune it down as conversation could be more easily heard.

Charged are Carman Chivitt of Toronto; Dan Gabelnick of Hamilton; Steve Bohach, John and Frank Sandker, Benny Vigar, Mike Cushman, Irving Hess, Nick Agostino and Jake Goldfarb, all of Vancouver.

They were arrested early in June when the RCMP climaxed months of intensive investigation with sweeps in eastern and western Canada.

321 Merchant Seamen Get Vocation Training

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP).—A federal government offer to finance vocational training for qualified merchant seamen veterans brought 770 applications from all across the country. Of that total, 321 or considerably less than half have been approved.

Officials said yesterday 118 applicants were ruled out because they were over the age limit of 30 years; another 100 withdrew voluntarily; 132 were rejected because they had not signed a training agreement in wartime; nine were out because they had not served on Canadian ships; 56 because they had worked. Others had not been finally approved or rejected.

The figures were prepared in answer to questions asked in the Commons by Howard Green (PC-Vancouver-Quebec). Veterans Minister Gregg said recently that consideration will be given to raising the age limit beyond 30 because of "representations."

The training program was announced at the end of 1948 and the deadline for applications was June 30, 1949. It was put into effect on the recommendation of the Commons Committee of Veterans Affairs.

Mother Begg 2-Year Term

CALGARY, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Mrs. Marion Henderson, 39-year-old attractive blonde mother, was sentenced yesterday to two years in Kingston penitentiary when she pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of narcotics.

She also drew a fine of $200 or an additional three months in jail. Mrs. Henderson was given the penitentiary term at her own request after Magistrate T. F. Fryer had first imposed an 18-month prison term.

"Everyone I know in Fort Saskatchewan (jail) is a drug addict," she told the court in asking for the penitentiary term where she could learn a trade.

Mrs. Henderson was the third of four persons caught in an auto court Oct. 7 to be sentenced on narcotics counts. Doris Turner and Lloyd Sterling drew 18 months sentences last week and the trial of Lena Skarlicki has not concluded.

Noronic Victims Failed To Take Fire Seriously

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Passengers and crew alike failed from the outset to accept as serious the fire which swept the cruise-steamship Noronic, claiming the lives of 119 persons in Toronto harbor, Sept. 17.

This was indicated yesterday in the evidence of witnesses heard during the 14th day of a federal inquiry into the disaster.

A ship's stoker said he kept right on shovelling after being warned three times the Noronic was afire. One survivor testified he assumed it was a "little nuisance fire," while another said he wasn't worried until he saw the ship's first mate remove his shoes as though preparing to jump overboard.

Five Canadian survivors who boarded the Noronic at Detroit were among the 11 witnesses heard today. Other witnesses were members of the Noronic's engine room staff.

All five survivors said they heard no alarm, apart from the ship's whistle, and they saw few members of the crew directing passengers or fighting the fire.

Leading stake State Burden said an officer warned him three times of the fire. He finally decided the report was right when the officer told him: "I don't know what you're going to do, but I know what I'm going to do," and left.

Insanity Seen As Murder Defence

Three Doctors Expected Here To Testify For Accused

The bizarre story of the McKay murder case began to take shape here yesterday as two RCMP officers continued their testimony.

The amazing casualness of the killer in the June 30 West Jasper Place slaying was revealed as the outstanding aspect of the story.

Standing trial for the brutal slaying is Michael Joseph Hayes, 43, of 9830-157 street.

A blood-stained double-ended car was among the 42 exhibits entered by the crown yesterday.

Others included a kitchen chair splattered with "red stains" samples of similar stains from the walls, ceiling and floor of the Hayes cabin; samples of hair; and a red-stained pair of gloves found near the grave.

The evidence showed the killer of William W. McKay, 50-year-old Edmonton warehouse worker of 3600 Jasper Avenue, made almost no effort to conceal his highly incriminating evidence.

An axe, believed to be the death weapon, was found leaning against the back of the Hayes residence, a few feet from the mound of earth which covered McKay's body.

Smudges, apparently of human sweat, were taken from the axe.

Near the grave a shovel was thrust in the ground. This is believed to have been used to dig the grave.

"Dark red stains" were found in three rooms of the Hayes shack, investigating officers found the floor, walls and ceiling splattered with the stains.

These details were revealed in the evidence of Sergeant John H. Kelly of the RCMP identification bureau.

Reviewing evidence taken at the preliminary hearing held in Judge Crown prosecutor W. J. Shortt told how Hayes had been seen in his garden in broad daylight the morning following the murder.

City Group Underwriting Uranium Find

After 12 years, a geological survey of mining property 70 miles south of Edmonton, Alberta, promises to pay off in a vault of fuel for atomic energy.

Reported rich in "uranium" are holdings of Traveler Longlake Mines situated on the north shore of Arden Bay of Revere Lake.

Officials of the company, convinced their property is a second Edmonton plan development of the townsite being planned next spring.

It was in 1936 that Dr. D. F. Kidd of the Canadian Geological Survey made an exploratory examination of the mineral deposits on property at Revere Lake, N.W.T.

He found the property to be rich in uraninite.

But the world wasn't interested. By today, uranium, the source of nuclear energy, is the most vital of metals and is sought frantically by the world.

SEVERAL PITS Dr. Kidd, in his Memoir 185, says several pits were sunk on high-grade pitchblende lenses and 13 tons of cobalt were shipped to the Department of Mines at Ottawa for analysis.

The shipment consisted of five tons and it was found that the ore contained an average of 40 per cent uranium oxide.

Officials of the firm which has its headquarters in Toronto have called the holdings the Cormac Group, consisting of six claims, Grant No. 42720 to 42725.

When financing of the venture is completed, crews will go into the property with sufficient mining equipment to work the pitchblende showings by open-pit methods. The ore will be shipped out for immediate shipment to the railroad at Peace River.

UNDERWRITING PROJECT Underwriting the uranium project, and offering for sale 1,000,000 shares, is the Yellowknife Investment Ltd. of Edmonton.

President of Traveler Longlake Mines, veteran prospector John Daniel De Staffany of Yellowknife.

Vice president is Kenneth Leslie, a resident of Chicago. Vice president is Kenneth Leslie, a resident of Chicago.

Quiet Wedding In Vestry Held Recently

Quiet wedding was held in the vestry of Melchugli United Church recently when Laura Albertson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hakkari of Ketchikan, Alaska, was married to George Martin Gibson, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gibson of Ketchikan, B.C.
